

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Brooke Stebick at 412-261-2600

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS LAW CONSORTIUM
MEETS IN DENVER, COLORADO

WASHINGTON D.C./PITTSBURGH/SAN DIEGO - March 17, 2008 - On March 13 through 16, the International Business Law Consortium (IBLC) -- an active clearinghouse of more than 95 corporate law and accounting firms in strategic cities worldwide -- held semi-annual meetings in Denver, Colorado.

The IBLC's Business Group, designed to help serve clients worldwide, met on March 13 and 14. The Business Group's conference was followed by seminars on global trends in the M&A markets.

IBLC

Founded in 1996, the IBLC is an arm of the Center for International Legal Studies, founded in Salzburg, Austria in 1976. It has law and accounting firms strategically located in Europe, Asia, the Middle East, Australia and North and South America. Members meet frequently each year formally and informally to exchange ideas and to assist each other in representing business clients around the globe.

Membership to the IBLC is by invitation only.

Page 1 of 2

Hull McGuire, a law firm based in Pittsburgh with offices in San Diego and Washington, D.C., is the IBLC's western Pennsylvania member. Since 1998, the firm has been highly active in the IBLC and guiding the group's direction.

Hull McGuire PC

Established in 1992, Hull McGuire PC (www.hullmcguire.com) practices in the areas of international law, international trade and transactions, tax (domestic and international), telecommunications, intellectual property, employment practices, litigation, natural resources and legislative affairs.